"THE GLORY OF WOMEN"

Y. W. C. A. Talk — Woman's Physical Charms, Tenderness and Self-Sacrifice.

"The Glory of Women," was the subject of an address to the Y. W. C. A., by Harry A. Miller of the Reading and Public Speaking department, on Wednesday morning, June 9.

The three main points in his talk were the physical charms, the tenderness and self-sacrifice of women.

Mr. Miller said he firmly believed in the personal adornment of women,—that they should be just as beautiful as they can "under the circumstances," because a woman's influence over men lies in her personal appearance.

He also said that women cannot escape their charms but they must not abuse them. There is a limit to a woman's charm and she must not go beyond that limit thereby using her beauty to the detriment of herself. The question was asked "Will you be a Cleopatra or a St. Theresa; A Society Belle or a Jane Addams?"

The tenderness of women was then spoken of, and that power was illustrated by Washington Irving's story of "The Wife,"—how by her tenderness, affection and sympathy, a woman renewed hope and ambition in the mind of her husband, who had failed in business.

The self-sacrifice of women was briefly mentioned. It is that which makes women so powerful. The speaker told how a handsome, cultured young woman had given her life to the work of educating the mountaineers of North Carolina.

Some of the really wonderful things that women have done were mentioned. "It was a woman," said Mr. Miller who first brought the Stars and Stripes to light; it was a woman, Joan d'Arc, who led her people to victory; it was a woman who made one of the greatest presidents this United States has ever known, Abraham Lincoln." Mr. Lincoln's wife said when she married him, that she intended to make him president. Then the speaker said, "It was a woman, who only a few days ago, saved a hospital in France." When the Germans began firing upon the hospital she suggested to one of the men to make a flag, from one of the sheets, staining a "red cross" on it by dipping it in the blood taken from the wounds of the soldiers. When the Germans saw the "red cross" sign they

NORMAL GRADUATE SENDS REPORT OF A DINNER SERVED BY HER HOME ECONOMICS CLASS IN PORTO RICO.

Miss Eva Call, a Normal graduate who is now teaching domestic science in the schools of Porto Rico, is the subject of comment in a Spanish newspaper in Porto Rico, a copy of which has been received by relatives here. The following article (the same in both columns) is a report of a meeting at which Miss Call and her pupils served a dinner to the school board, mayor and other officers of the city. The column at the left shows how the story appeared in the "El Aguila de Puerto Rico," and the one at the right is a literal translation sent with the paper by Miss Call:

Notas De Aibonito.

En el departamento de cocina de la Escuela de Ciencias Domesticas de este pueblo tuvo lugar, el dia ocho de los Corrientes, un esplendido almuerzo con que la inteligente y simpatica profesora Miss Eva Call obsequiara a la Junta Escolar, Superautoridades locales.

Bien confeccionados eran los manjares y dulces de varias clases, servidos por las graciosas alumnas por las graciosas alumnas que, bajo la competente direccion de la mencionada profesora estandian methods de cocina.

Llenaron su cometido de manera admirable quedando todos los concurrentes altamente satisfechos de las atenciones de que fueron objeto, a los que correspondieron prolongados elogios tanto a Miss Eva Call como a sus graciosas discipulas.

De esta escuela e derivaran inmensos beneficios y de esto estamos plenamente satisfechos estamos plenamente satisfechos todos los aibonitenos.

News of Aibonito.

In the department of cooking in the school of Domestic Science of this town, had occasion the eighth of the current month, a splendid dinner was served by the intelligent and sympathetic teacher, Miss Eva Call, presented to the School Board, Supervising Principal, Mayor and other local authorities.

Well made were the victuals and deserts of the various classes served by the pleasing pupils which under the competent direction of the aforementioned teacher are studying the methods of cooking.

They satisfied their commission in an admirable manner and the assembly left all agreeing that they had been highly entertained. Also they lingered to praise Miss Call as much as her pleasing pupils.

From this school we derive immense benefit and of this we are fully satisfied all the Aibonitans are.

Following is the menu which was served by Miss Call and her pupils:

MENU (Six Courses)

Olives
Sopa de Carne (Soup)	Crackers
Tortillas de Huevos (Omelets)	Biscuits and Butter
Bacalao a la Vizcaina	Mashed Potatoes
Fried Chicken	Chayote Salad
Batatas (Sweet Potatoes)

immediately stopped firing. Then this thought was given, that it was a woman who was last at the cross and first at the grave of the Savior.

The power of the Christian religion was spoken of, the speaker telling how it had freed women from slavery. Then in conclusion, Mr. Miller said, "Did you ever see a beautiful flower garden, and were you not disappointed when you bent down to smell the flowers, and there was no perfume there? So it is with a beautiful woman without Christianity." She lacks that one thing which adds to her power.

Eight Mo. Wesleyan Grads. Here.

M. N. Yetter, another Mo. Wesleyan graduate, has entered the Normal since the last issue of the "Courier," when it was announced that we had seven Mo. Wesleyan representatives here.

Miss Nellie Wiley, a former Normal student, was the guest of Miss Mattie Dykes, Thursday, June 17.

MARYVILLE vs. CONCEPTION

Conception Wins Two Games — Adams Star — Boys Improved — The Tournament Started.

We have had two games with Conception since the opening of the summer quarter and although we lost both, yet our team certainly made a splendid showing when we consider that the men have not played together before. The first game, on the afternoon of the tenth, was lost by errors. The score was eleven to one. Maryville got eleven hits, while Conception got ten — Adams pitched a splendid game, striking out twelve men, while Conception's pitcher struck out only four.

The second game was played at Conception on the twelfth. Our boys did some good playing, the score being ten to nine in favor of Conception. We made eleven hits, and stole four bases in the game, and we made five errors. Conception made thirteen hits, stole five bases, and made two errors. If we are to judge from the improvement which our boys made, we would be able to beat Conception easily with a little more practice.

The lineup for the second game was as follows:

Normal Team	Conception—
Vaughan .....p.	Wertham .....p.
Miller .....c.	Lyons .....c.
Powell .....1st	Lehmann .....1st
H. Adams.....2nd	L. Cummins ..2nd
Alley .....3rd	Ed. Cummins ..3rd
Long .....ss.	McGraw .....ss.
Poor .....rf.	Bruinn .....rf.
Vandersloot .....lf.	Bremeich .....lf.
Bowen .....cf.	Wagner .....cf.

The base ball tournament, to be held among the men of the school, is well under way. Thirty men have been enlisted for the teams. Three teams have already been formed, and a fourth is under way. The three teams are: Tigers, L. Adams, captain.; Giants, Alley, captain; Grizzlies, S. Long, captain. The tournament starts this week. Games will be played on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday afternoons, each team playing two games a week.

Speaks at Mound City.

Pres. Ira Richardson went to Mound City, Mo., June 12, to attend the celebration held there in honor of the completion of their new school building, their new white way, and their paving. Mr. Richardson made an address in the afternoon.

THE OTHER FELLOW'S WORK.

Many of the students who come to this school for the summer session do not get acquainted with the other fellow's work. They are here taking four or five subjects and constantly grinding away at these, not knowing what is going on in the other departments of the school. Are you that person? As you have passed through the corridor, have you ever stopped to glance into any of the rooms to see what your schoolmate is about?

Did you know that the Fifth District Normal School has, on the fourth floor of this building, one of the best equipped art departments, of a school of its type, in the state? To convince yourself of this take a little excursion to the fourth floor some day at one of your vacant periods and see some of the things that are being done there. The walls of the art room are decorated with blackboard drawings, water-color paintings, and crayon sketches which may serve you well next winter.

Our manual training department is another section of the school you should know. Some excellent pieces of wood work are always on exhibit and you will undoubtedly be benefited by examining some of the new equipment in this department.

Our school also has some splendid laboratory equipment which every teacher of agriculture or science should see before this term closes. If you do not teach these subjects just step in and inspect. On the third floor in the geographical laboratory, is a rare exhibit of silk worms. If you go away without seeing them you may never have another opportunity.

On the same floor at the east end of the building is our domestic science and sewing department. This gives you an opportunity to see some of the many phases of practical work which our school has to offer you.

In fact every room in the building and all parts of the campus have some special feature which you should investigate. Remember that the other fellow has his work to do and that if you ever expect to be socially efficient you must get acquainted with the other fellow's work.

At Rest.

Roy L. Simpson, the subject of this sketch, was born in Harrison county, Missouri, and died at Pawnee, Missouri, June, 1915, of the dreaded disease consumption, age 25 years, 5 mo., 14 days.

He was left an orphan at the age of 5 years and was then taken by Richard Smith and wife and raised to manhood, and was the same as an own son to them. They gave him every advantage of a good education and he was one of Harrison county's successful school teachers.

He was a faithful member of the Christian church and bore his long sickness with patience and fortitude.

He was married to Miss Carrie Wood, May 22, 1913; to this union was born one son, Dick, age 15 months.

He leaves an invalid wife and one son, eight brothers, and his foster-father, Richard Smith, to mourn their loss.

Roy was a boy and young man loved and respected by all who knew him and his friends were numbered by his acquaintances.

—"A Friend."

The Y. M. C. A. of the Normal, of which organization Mr. Simpson was a member, wrote the following letter and resolutions to Mrs. Simpson:

Dear Mrs. Simpson:

It is with sincere and deep emotion that we have learned of the death of your beloved husband and our brother. While among us he manifested that kind and charitable brotherhood that every Christian ought to have. He was active in the work of our Association. The Association feels that it has lost a respected and worthy member. We know your grief is great and our loss keen; yet we believe in the wisdom of a Divine Providence who has power to give life and to take it away. At this hour of gloom and sadness we offer you our sympathy and commend you to the assuring mercy of a loving God who shall care for you. May His richest blessing fall upon you and your child.

We beg to offer the following resolutions as an organization:

RESOLUTIONS.

Knowing the worthiness of our friend and brother, Roy Simpson, and the esteem in which he was held by those who knew him; and feeling keenly the loss sustained by us in his death, we, the members of the Y. M. C. A., of the State Normal School at Maryville, Mo., do offer:

1. Our heartfelt sympathy to the wife and family of our brother and to his foster-father and his friends.

2. We pray that the sustaining power of the Almighty may give comfort to them.

3. That his child will be led and guided by the same Christ that led and guided him.

4. That those who are left to mourn his loss may be filled with the assurance of that reward which is promised to those who trust in the Lord.

Resolved that a copy of these resolutions be placed on file with the Y. M. C. A. of the State Normal.

Committee on Resolutions—Harry A. Miller, W. A. Power, Lawrence Zeliff.

Speaks at Joint Meeting of Y's.

It is the purpose of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. to hold joint meetings every other week throughout the summer quarter. It is the intention to make these meetings of education, rather than exclusively religious in nature. The first of this series was given Wednesday, June 16.

Mr. Davis, of the educational department gave a talk on the Germans. It was his purpose in this talk to help us to understand German customs. He warned us against making hasty judgments of the peculiarities of the Germans. His talk was especially rich in illustrations, and was highly instructive.

A mixed quartet, Blanche Criswell, Emma Hardin, Wm. Utter and Don Roberts sang, "The Trees and the Master," by McCaskey.

Off To Exposition.

Misses Grace Pugh and Bernice Baker left recently for California, where they will attend the Panama Exposition. They will go by way of Denver and Colorado Springs and will stop to visit the Grand Canyon in Arizona. Miss Baker will visit at Portland, Seattle, and Spokane, and at Corbetson, Montana, on the return trip.

Miss Baker is a graduate of this school and Miss Pugh is a former student.

W. A. Blagg Addresses Students.

W. A. Blagg, president of the Board of Regents, whose talks to the students are so well appreciated, spoke to them for a few minutes at the assembly period, Thursday morning, June 10.

The theme of Mr. Blagg's talk was: "It is the set of the soul

That guides to the goal."

This quotation is taken from a poem written by Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

"It is your set of the soul that guided you to this goal," said Mr. Blagg, and he congratulated the students upon the 'set' of their souls. He welcomed them to Maryville and promised himself to give to them an evening of social entertainment, to which they are looking forward with eagerness.

The words, "I hope the seven-colored rainbow of peace and happiness will even arch your heavens," closed his remarks.

Training School Announcement.

The Training School is sending out to its patrons a letter in which is stated the plans they have for the coming year.

The problem curriculum will be continued through next year. Because of this, more constructive work will be done than in the past. A workroom will be fitted for the use of motor activities that will arise in connection with the various problems studied.

The object in sending out these letters is to enroll the pupils now. They will be enrolled in order of their application.

The letter is:—

The Training School of the State Normal School will open September 15, 1915.

The school intends to be constructive, progressive, and exceedingly helpful to children. The self-activity of the child and its related modes of expression, through inherent interest rather than compulsion, are sought. Opportunities will be offered in all the grades to study Art, Music, Cooking and Sewing, Elementary Science, Manual Training and Physical Training. The equipment will be enlarged from year to year. No charge is made for tuition or textbooks.

The Kindergarten will receive a class of twenty pupils and each succeeding grade sixteen pupils.

Ira Richardson, President.

Eurekan Reception.

The crowning event of the summer session of the Normal, according to the Eurekans, took place when the Eurekan Literary Society gave a reception for their new members, Thursday, June 17.

The business session came first, held in the regular assembly room, after which all the members went to the kindergarten room, which had been decorated in ferns.

The time was spent in getting acquainted and playing games, then refreshments were served.

Everyone declared it to be the best time he had had for a long time, and they are still talking about it.

There are now more new members than the society has had at any one time before, and there are more young men in the society than usual.

Philos Give Picnic.

Owing to the condition of the elements, the Philos gave their picnic for the reception of new members in the Training School assembly room on Thursday evening, June 17. Various games were played and ample refreshments consisting of sandwiches, salad, pickles, olives, fresh tomatoes, strawberries, ice cream and cake were served. Everyone present enjoyed the occasion immensely.

The party of young people went to the Fern theatre and to Reuillard's. Those present besides Miss Millan, were Misses Chloe Compton, Maude Compton, Pearl Wilkerson, Mattie Dykes and Beatrix Winn.

"Philos" Active

The members of the Philomathean Literary Society stormed assembly, on Tuesday, June 8, with a series of their well-known yells. They had gained entrance to the assembly hall by way of the stairs leading from the gymnasium and appeared in a body and gave their yells just inside the room. The "Philos" are noted for springing surprises.

Faculty Entertains Student Body.

The students of the school were entertained at an informal "Get-Acquainted" party given by the Faculty in the library Friday night, June 18.

At 8 o'clock sharp the reception committee, consisting of Pres. Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Colbert and Mrs. Perrin were in line in the ladies' parlor waiting to extend the glad hand to each of the students. Upon entering the library the students received folders, in which to record the names of new acquaintances. Everyone entered heartily into the game of "getting acquainted."

Punch was served from four tables by members of the faculty. The room was decorated with rambler roses, evergreens, and mock orange blossoms. Music was furnished by the orchestra.

Miss Golden Wells Married.

A very quiet wedding took place Saturday morning, June 13, at 9 o'clock at the home of S. E. Wells in Ravenwood when his daughter, Miss Golden, became the bride of Alvin R. Clark, of Kansas City. The ceremony was read by Rev. J. C. Jones of St. Joseph, the ring service being used. The bride was attired in her traveling suit of gray silk poplin with hat and gloves to match. Only the immediate relatives of the two families were present. Mr. and Mrs. Clark left on the noon train for Kansas City, where they will make their home. Mrs. Clark is well known in Maryville, having attended the Normal here two years ago. While here she made her home with Mr. and Mrs. S. J. De Armond.—Maryville Tribune.

An audience that nearly filled the church auditorium heard Mr. Miller and it was felt that he did even better than on the night of the contest.

Reminder of Boyhood Days.

A foot-stool made from an old walnut school-desk was presented to Pres. Ira Richardson at the assembly period on Tuesday morning, June 8, by Dean G. H. Colbert. It was made by S. W. Skelton and W. A. Power, and is pronounced to be a splendid piece of workmanship.

The desk from which this footstool was made, stood in a country school-house near Mound City, Missouri, where Pres. Richardson attended school when a boy. When this old building was torn down recently in order that a better and more modern structure might be built, the idea was conceived of making some piece of furniture from one or two of the desks and giving it to our president as a memento of those old school days and the footstool is the result.

This footstool bears signs of the kind of craftsmanship practiced in former days before the art of manual training was introduced into our schools. A deep notch, no doubt cut by some jack knife, may be found on one side, while an initial can be seen underneath.

"I have nothing to say in self-defense," said Pres. Richardson, as he accepted the gift, and then expressed a deep sense of gratitude to the young men who had made and given to him this reminder of personal history.

Y. M. C. A. Talk.

On Wednesday, June 9, Dean Colbert addressed the young men of the school. His manner of presenting the subject differed somewhat from the ordinary in that he confined himself largely to essentials and allowed his listeners to draw their own conclusions.

He gave in substance, the life-story of Jacob Riis. Young Riis came to America from Denmark when twenty-one years of age. He was alone in a strange land and was poor; but the Jacob Riis whom we know later, here began his career. He worked at various things: dug coal, did carpenter work, labored on the farm, was a cabinet maker, a traveling salesman, a newspaper reporter and later he bought the South Brooklyn News. His chief work, however, was done in the way of improving tenement-house conditions in lower New York City.

His life was full of interest. One occurrence in particular, reveals him when at work. He was one of the many reporters for a New York paper. His time for his work was limited. One day in his eagerness to get his report to the office on time he accidentally crowded a stranger off the sidewalk. The next morning he was called into the office and was informed that the stranger was the manager of the paper for which he was working. He offered an apology, but 'twas not accepted. The spirit of the young reporter was appreciated and he was promoted.

He did much in the way of school reform, also toward establishing small parks in New York City. The spirit of the young reporter accounts largely for his success. 'Tis best explained by words from his own lips. Some one asked him what was his job. He replied, "I haven't a job but a mission. I am working for the good of mankind and am publishing a newspaper to pay expenses."

Glee Clubs and Orchestra.

Much musical talent is displayed in the Normal this term. Two glee clubs have been organized, a ladies' glee club and a men's glee club. The orchestra has been enlarged, although there is yet room for those who are able to enter it and have not yet done so. The organizations are all under the direction of H. B. Schuler.

Visits Sister at Normal.

Miss Chloe Compton, a graduate of the class of '15, who has been teaching in the Sioux City schools during the past few months, spent last week visiting her sister Miss Maude Compton, who is attending the Normal this summer.
